

Personally, I really dislike the idea of the quite corrupt government having the ability to tap my access on a whim. I don't trust the United States government, nor any branch thereof. There's no reason to. Therefore, I really dislike the idea that they would be able to tap my lines so very easily. This is unconstitutional.